The above contractors and consultants are companies and individuals whom EBI has dealt with in the past. Our experience with these companies has been favorable however, under different circumstances, your expectations and experience may be different from ours. We provide the above list as a starting point for hiring, but encourage you to interview others. We strongly recommended obtaining several quotations for renovation work to ensure that you are getting a contractor who you feel is reliable and charges a fair price for the work. EBI does in no way guarantee that the above companies will provide a fair price or carry out the work to your standards and satisfaction.
